AIRFIELD STRIPING / PAINTING NEXT WEEK

Beginning Tuesday morning at 0700 hrs., All Star Painting will begin painting most all of the entire movement area. This will be all painted markings on both runways, including the blast pads, and all centerlines on the taxiways. Some double edge lines will be touched up and some poor (not straight) markings will be water blasted to remove them and then replace them with new paint.

This work will result in multiple closures of both runways and taxiways during this coming week. This will be all day on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. It is possible that additional work may need to be done on Friday, as well.

Please be prepared for these closures and please use extra care in looking for the painting equipment in motion. Let's be safe!

Thanks for listening and supporting the Ogden Regional Airport.
