Economic Development – Business Information Center

- Hosted an economic development discussion for the Chamber’s Leadership Northern Utah program; Sara, Liesl and David participated and presented our Economic Development Division’s vision, strategic focus areas, and recent project wins.
- Met with WSU Division of Online and Continuing Education (DOCE) about their services related to developing customized workforce training programs for area employers.
- Coordinated internally regarding UDOT’s plans for the 24th Street Interchange project and attended UDOT’s two public open houses and right-of-way meetings; with our goal to support businesses that may be impacted by the project, and if relocation is required, to help them relocate within Ogden City. More project information is available at <https://udotinput.utah.gov/24thstreetinterchange>.
- Continued planning and marketing efforts for the inaugural Acceler8 Wasatch Week event (May 13-16) in Ogden.
- Met with Visit Ogden and our Marketing manager to propose and review Airport flight service promotion plans and collaboration. Continued weekly meetings and resulting activities are planned to increase awareness and passenger activity.
- Meet with Patriot Rail management regarding their Ogden site development plans, and we will be following up with our feedback.
- Meet with two restaurant groups and our Planning Division’s Concept Review Team to review their new concepts, and feedback/direction will be provided.
- Worked on additional edits for the paid parking RFP and communicated with our parking consultant regarding questions from the last steering committee meeting.
- Met with ODA management regarding the paid parking system updates and preparations for this week’s quarterly member meeting.
- Met with Enable Utah regarding overall activities and the owners’ association at the Ogden Business Exchange.
- Met with Facilities and the master lease holder at the Salomon Center to discuss facility needs and potential lease updates.
- Met with airport staff regarding tenant lease management.
- Presentations from the recent Utah Alliance for Economic Development conference are available at X:\BusDev\Facts Library\2024\UtahAlliance_4-11-24 Meeting (contact David for access). Noteworthy presentations relative to our activities include:
 - The HTRZ development activities in Lehi Station presentation – likely applicable for our Union Station campus development.

 - The State of Real Estate presentation – market analysis for residential, multi-family, retail, industrial, office – all positive trends for our WonderBlock project.
- Preparing for this week’s (Apr. 24) “You Make Ogden” open house, which will feature a Zone Ogden presentation from Planning.
- Another positive Ogden article came out this week – Ogden, Utah is one of the best places to live in 2024 | Money.

Planning

- Plan Ogden: Planning met with two classes at Ogden High School to get feedback from the students on their vision for the future.
- Zone Ogden: Planning presented several code changes to the Planning Commission for discussion. Topics included infill residential standards and planned developments. Additionally, we have been working with an urban planning class at WSU. They investigated infill residential development in Ogden and the students presented their final projects with recommendations on how to encourage additional housing on vacant sites. Several advisory committee and planning commission members attended the presentations.
- 24th Street Interchange: Planning staff attended UDOT’s open house and plan to support keeping affected businesses in Ogden.
- MARM: Staff presented three small subdivisions and one private subdivision to the mayor for approval. The mayor approved all four.
- Landmarks: The Landmarks Commission held a work session and focused on how to better enforce historic preservation rules.
- Heather Wadman from Engineering trained planning staff on the new FOG (Fats, Oils, and Grease) program.
- Alyssa Girardo and Planning Commissioner Michelle Williams attended the National Planning Conference in Minneapolis.
