Help Improve Our Community - Take The Survey!

Ogden City is partnering with the Utah Wellbeing Project to conduct a public

Wellbeing survey, and your voice matters! This survey is designed to help elected officials in Ogden City better understand the life conditions and well-being of our residents and how various aspects of life differ from person to person and neighborhood to neighborhood. The results shared with Ogden City leaders will help elected officials to guide better policy to help improve our community.

We invite all Ogden City residents to participate in this survey, which takes about 10 minutes to complete. No identifying information will be collected, and while open comments will be shared with city leaders, the survey data will only be reported at the city level, not for individuals.

To complete the survey, scan the QR code below or visit <http://tinyurl.com/Ogden2024N>.

Encourage your family and friends in the community to complete the survey today!

Any questions or concerns can be directed to the Ogden City Council office.

Ogden City General Plan Update - Plan Ogden

Summary: Ogden City is updating its entire general plan. The project is called Plan Ogden. The goal is to guide Ogden's growth, development, and future. The general plan process will include a citywide vision that you and the community will create. The general plan is divided up into different categories or elements. Each element addresses a specific topic: housing, transportation, and public services. The citywide vision will guide how each component is developed in the general plan. This is a generational opportunity for the community to plan Ogden's future. Plan Ogden!

The consultant team, city staff, and the advisory committee have been doing community outreach. We held several workshops within the community and are developing growth scenarios based on the input we received. The visioning survey is still open until October 23, 2024, if you would like to provide additional input. There is also a live survey for envisioning the future of the Ogden Express Bus-Rapid Transit Station areas along Harrison Blvd. and on Weber State's Campus. See the links below.

The consultant team has been working with city staff to evaluate the information received from the workshops, one-on-one interviews, and several community engagements. At the October workshops, the public will have an opportunity to review and compare these growth scenarios, including a citywide map, images, and metrics.

Please plan on attending the Growth Scenarios Workshop at the Union Station on October 23, 2024, at 5:30 p.m. We are also planning on holding a Spanish-speaking workshop during that same week. Attend and evaluate the various growth scenarios based on ideas from the community.

Please sign up for the project mailing list to be notified of upcoming events by visiting the project website.

Disposing of Fall Leaves

When leaves start to fall, it will be time to start thinking about what to do with them. Be aware while raking leaves this fall that it is a violation of illegal dumping and waterway blocking ordinances to sweep or push leaves into the gutter or onto the street. Fallen leaves can plug storm drains and will cause ice dams to form in the gutters when the weather freezes. Keep the gutter in front of your home clean. Dispose of green waste from seasonal yard cleanup such as branches, leaves, and grass clippings at Ogden City's Green Waste Facility (1845 Monroe Blvd). Residents who are unable to take their leaves to the Green Waste Facility should consider asking relatives, neighbors, or friends to assist them.

Emergency Preparedness: Prepare For Power Outages

To ensure safety and comfort during power outages, it's crucial to equip your home for both short and long-term electricity failures, often resulting from natural disasters or human errors. Implementing a comprehensive emergency plan that includes alternative methods for lighting, communication, heating, and cooking is essential.

For lighting, distribute battery-operated lights throughout your home, ensuring a stockpile of long-lasting alkaline batteries. For extended outages, consider propane lanterns or kerosene lamps, which are economical and produce minimal fumes, though they require proper ventilation to prevent oxygen depletion and carbon monoxide buildup. Store fuels like kerosene safely, as it's less volatile.

Cooking alternatives include outdoor grills, camp stoves, and Dutch ovens. Keep extra blankets, sleeping bags, and warm clothing on hand. Always have an adult awake to monitor the use of any alternative heating or lighting sources for safety. Incorporate an ABC fire extinguisher into your plan and familiarize yourself with its operation.

Generators can substitute for lost power but must be used with caution. Operate them outside only, away from living spaces to avoid carbon monoxide poisoning, and plan for fuel storage safely.
