Weekly at-a-glance report from Ogden City's Community & Economic Development Department. Previous editions are available on the CED Webpage.

Executive Summary

Ogden City's Community & Economic Development Department began the year with strong momentum, reflected in increased airport activity, steady development planning and housing progress, and major cultural and redevelopment investments. Continued business outreach and recruitment, and community engagement efforts further supported economic growth, neighborhood stability, and long-term strategic goals citywide.

Airport Division

- Demand for air service continues to strengthen, with average passengers per flight up 22.5% in 2025 over the previous year.
- Kudos to the airport team for their rapid response to last week's mini snowstorm—runways were cleared and safely reopened for operations within one hour of the final snowfall.
- The airport team is working closely with the baggage carousel designer; installation begins this week and the new carousel is expected to be fully operational by the first week of February.

Building Services Division (building permits/inspections – business licensing – code services)

- The Plan Review team maintained a steady workload to start the year, completing a mix of commercial, residential, and development reviews, along with new business license reviews. Activity included an uptick in cellular communications projects, such as antenna replacements and tower improvements. Key projects reviewed included a commercial remodel at TAB Bank (4185 Harrison Blvd.), a warehouse expansion at Sky Blue (760 W. Exchange Rd.), and a new four-plex townhome development at 2784 Jefferson Ave.
- Building Permit activity remained strong last week with 44 permits issued, most commonly for residential mechanical (12) and plumbing (12).
- Building Inspection activity was strong with 199 inspections completed across residential and commercial sites, most frequently residential final simple (23), commercial insulation (19), and commercial firewall (18).
- 17 new Business Licenses were issued last week, including Tacos Los Gordos (3233 Washington Blvd.), Northern Utah Psychology & Consulting (2650 Washington Blvd., Suite 105), and Thistle & Thorn LLC (2853 Washington Blvd).
