Forbes magazine ranked Ogden the 8th best place for business and careers.

Sunset Magazine called Ogden one of the West's top 5 places to live. National Geographic deemed it a top 10 emerging ski town.

A major urban and regional center nestled at the foot of the Wasatch Range, our community offers a unique mountain-to-metro lifestyle. Downtown revitalization and rapid growth in key industries have helped Ogden to attract new businesses and create high-wage jobs.

Key industries include aerospace, advanced materials, outdoor products, life sciences, and tech. The Brookings Institution has recognized the Ogden metro area as having the nation's 14th highest concentration of employment in advanced industries. Along with these assets, Ogden offers an affordable cost of doing business and living.

WEBER STATE UNIVERSITY

Weber State University has unique strengths in both business and the sciences. The Goddard School of Business is home to a leading program in professional sales, as well as a world-class center for entrepreneurship. The college of Engineering, Applied Science, and Technology (EAST) has strong programs in computer science, engineering, and engineering technology. Additionally, WSU's Concept Center creates research partnerships, including a partnership with ATK to develop and test carbon fiber aircraft components.

OGDEN-WEBER TECH COLLEGE

In addition to Weber State, Ogden-Weber Tech College has 5,800 students enrolled in 28 different programs. OWTC has particular strengths in industrial automation, non-destructive inspection, and composites. The college also partners with industry to provide employer-driven technical training, including the Custom Fit program described below.

CUSTOM FIT TRAINING

Custom Fit Training is a partnership between the Utah College of Technology, Salt Lake Community College, select sister institutions across the state, and the local business community. Its mission is to provide customized employee training to businesses at an affordable cost, either in a classroom setting or at the business location. The Utah State Legislature appropriates funds each year as an investment in Utah's economy through Custom Fit.
